

● BoysLingo App has made language learning an enjoyable experience - students confirm this!

Last year, in each partner country a pool of teaching experts was involved in the identification of the most relevant language learning objectives on the basis of their national curriculum and in the development of educative but very enjoyable learning activities so as to boost students motivation in learning and enhance their language skills.

At the beginning of 2024 various primary and secondary schools in Poland, Cyprus, Greece, Ireland and Italy opened up their doors and allowed their students to pilot the new App the project has created: the BoysLingo App.

More than 1,000 students, both male and female, took part at the piloting in class, being engaged in exploring the 40 interactive and learning scenarios developed to help them build their language skills.

8 learning scenarios were created in each partner language: 4 intended for use by elementary school students, 4 aimed at secondary school students, but all of them are also available in English, thus allowing students to test out their language competences both in their native language as well as in English.

After the piloting, students were asked to evaluate their learning experience and the usefulness of the app.

The vast majority of them loved to play with language and affirmed that both the content and the interactivity of the learning experience were involving and funny, and that the feedback provided by each scenario helped them learn new things or better retain topics previously discussed in class.

With the help of their teachers, they also shared some improvements that they think would enhance the learning experience and the level of interactivity, helping us understand how to better meet their learning needs, while making the most of the benefits of gamification and mobile learning experiences!

Their invaluable feedback will be integrated to improve the App, helping other students to take the chance to learn effectively, while having fun.

The BoysLingo App is already available on App store and Play store. Go check it and share it with your students to liven up your language lessons!

BoysLingo App

- Teachers, are you ready?
It's almost your turn!

Currently, the BoysLingo partners are working on the finalisation of 3 training modules to improve educators, school leaders, and school staff's knowledge and competences and empower them in organizing and implementing language learning activities in the classroom with the use of digital tools, such as a gamified mobile learning environment.

The learning modules will address both the needs of primary and secondary education teachers, providing them with both theoretical and practical knowledge on the following topics: Language Learning and Gender Gap; Incorporating Mobile Pedagogy in the Classroom and Applying Gamification in the Learning Design.

The modules will be released in mid-May in all partner languages and accessible through the e-learning platform on the project website. A certificate will be released for teachers completing all the learning modules, so as to enrich their curriculum with a concrete learning experience focused on the relationship between language learning and gamification as a solution to bridge the gender gap in this field.
